Elko, January 21 - The Inter-Tribal Youth Council of Elko, Nevada held their first fundraiser during the Open Men's Basketball Tournament, at the Elko Colony Health and Wellness Center.

The group sold tickets for a 50/50 raffle, with proceeds going to pay for office supplies for their office located at the Elko Band Child Development Center.

The group pictured above are Juniors and Seniors in high school, Jade Conklin and Shay Esaw are set to graduate this year.

Milton Collins was the winner of the 50/50 raffle announced at the end of the tournament.

Meet the New Western Shoshone Dialogue Facilitator

Submitted by Rondee Graham, WS Dialogue Facilitator

Rondee Graham is a member of the Duckwater Shoshone Tribe, her parents are mother, Kathy Adams-Blackeye, Duckwater, Nevada and father Boyd Graham, Duckwater, Nevada. Maternal grandmother, Beulah Adams, Duckwater, Nevada; and paternal grandmother Ada Mike, and paternal grandfather Raymond Graham, Duckwater, Nevada.

She has one son, and has lived in Nevada most of her life. She was born in Elko, Nevada, and spent most of her childhood on Duckwater Shoshone Reservation before moving to Fallon for high school. She has also lived in Austin, Yomba, Fernley, Wadsworth and Reno. She received her Associate of Fine Arts Degree from Truckee Meadows Community College in Reno, Nevada and a Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree from the Institute of American Indian Arts in Santa Fe, New Mexico. Rondee was a Western Shoshone Scholarship Foundation recipient and a Barrick Intern with the Western Shoshone Community Internship Program. Rondee is an aspiring artist with a focus on photography. She is excited about her new role with Barrick because working with the tribes has always been one of her dreams. Rondee looks forward to spending time in the communities and knows it will also inspire her art.

"I have always wanted to use my education to give back to the Newe people in some way. I believe in progress and want to see the Western Shoshone Tribes become successful and self-sufficient. I also believe that higher education is one important key to our people's success. My work with Barrick and the Western Shoshone Bands and Tribes of Nevada will help to advance that progress."

Kid-Fit Dancers and Native Speakers Welcomed at Gathering

Article and photos by Victoria Jackson

Nephi Craig with the GBC Shoshone Language Class during his Humanities Talk.

Elko, February 3 - Several crowds gathered as the Kid Fit Native Dance Program performed on the final day of the 2018 National Cowboy Poetry Gathering, at the Elko Convention Center.

Visitors took photos and videos of the kids in their regalia, many complimenting the charity of the kids exhibiting their styles.

Nephi Craig, son of the late recording artist, Vincent Craig, spoke at the keynote speech, as well as showed off his culinary skills with traditional foods during the Humanities Talk at Great Basin College. He spoke about the history and oppression of many Native tribes.

As a chef with twenty years of experience, Craig talked about indigenous resurgence through Native foods. He explained that his speech was "about health and revitaliza-

Te-Moak Housing Authority Community Survey

Community Survey 2018: Needs for the Indian Housing Plan for the Te-Moak Housing Authority

This form serves as an official survey conducted by Te-Moak Housing Authority in order to compile information for our Community Housing Needs. In order to provide accurate assessments for the new fiscal year Indian Housing Plan, this survey is extremely important because your opinion is essential for quality improvements.

Your response will assist in identifying our Indian Housing Plan for future developments and repairs. In order to identify these we are requesting for positive input and a quick response. Please be advised, this is not a commitment for all repairs you list, but if the concerns are identified for a large quantity of homes, this may contribute to grants needed specifically for that project. TMHA Staff will be conducting the Indian Housing Plan meetings in your community. IHP Notices will be posted. We would appreciate the Name, Address and Phone Number portion filled out as this survey cannot be calculated without that information. Upon completion of the survey, please hand deliver or mail back to the Te-Moak Housing Authority by no later than Wednesday, January 31, Extended 2018 @ 5:00P.M., Thank You!

Upcoming GBC Talks Event

1500 College Parkway Elko, NV 89801 www.gbcnv.edu
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
February 9, 2018 Contact: Kayla McCarson Director, Marketing & Communications 775-753-2105 kayla.mccarson@gbcnv.edu GBC Talks presents "Religious Liberty in the 21st Century" (ELKO, NEV.) The rights of religious liberty are some of the cornerstones to American history and culture, and are enshrined in the Constitution's First Amendment. Yet few issues have generated such perennial debates and controversies.

Over the last decade, a series of conflicts between religious liberty and issues of equal access and personal choice have spurred serious discussion and legal action. Court cases such as Burwell v. Hobby Lobby, Masterpiece Cakeshop v. Colorado Civil Rights Commission, Little Sisters of the Poor v. Burwell, and others have raised new concerns about where the boundaries of religious liberty should lie in modern American society. To what extent does religious liberty conflict with federal and state laws on a range of issues, or even personal choices? How should such conflicts be resolved?

The next GBC Talks event will look at the issues these controversies have raised and discuss the role religious liberties play in modern society. Leading the discussion will be short presentations by:

Zach Gerber, Esq. – Partner at Gerber Law Offices, LLP and President of the Great Basin Chapter of the J. Reuben Clark Law Society
Dan DuSoleil – Pastor at the Christian Center of Elko
Kevin Hodur, Ph. D. – English Instructor, Great Basin College

Following the presentations, the floor will be opened to general discussion to explore these issues together.

"Religious Liberty in the Twenty-First Century" will be held 7 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 21 in the Greenhaw Technical Arts building, room 130 on the GBC Elko campus. Interactive video connections will also be available at GBC centers:

Battle Mountain: BM3 Ely: GBC 111 Pahrump: GBC PVC 122 Winnemucca: GBC 108
The event is free and open to the public.

GBC Talks is sponsored by the Virtual Humanities Center at Great Basin College and made possible in part by a major grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. For more information, contact Scott Gavorsky at scott.gavorsky@gbcnv.edu or 7532122.

Elko County Democrats Information

Submitted by the Elko County Democratic Central Committee

The Elko County Democratic Central Committee will hold its monthly meeting at 6 p.m. on Tuesday February 20th at the North Eastern Nevada Regional Hospital classroom (off the dining area). We will be discussing the upcoming Elko County precinct caucus and convention to be held on February 24th along with discussing and voting on our Democratic platform issues. Please come join us!

All registered Elko County Democrats are encouraged to attend the Elko County precinct caucuses and county convention on Saturday, February 24 beginning at 9 a.m. at the Adobe Middle School in Elko. Independent and Republican voters wanting to register as Democrats are also invited to attend. Voter registration will be available the day of the caucus. The purpose of the caucus is to elect delegates to the county and state convention; elect members of the state central committee and to receive and discuss proposed platform resolutions. Anyone who will be 18 or older by Nov. 6, 2018 can attend. Please contact us at elkodems@gmail.com with any questions and please join us!

Fandango Fundraising Begins

tion, basically validating our ancestral intelligence." He spoke several times about how his father, Vincent, was a performer at the gathering, and when he received the invitation he was amazed and gladly accepted the invitation.

During the Humanities talk, Craig said, "tonight we got to meet the Shoshone Language Revitalization group, and I would like to share and commend them on their work so far. It's profoundly important to continue our work on revitalizing our languages, it's just as important as our food revitalization system.

As for his observation of our local participants, Craig said, "they've been very nice, and genuinely inquisitive about asking me questions, I could see the strength, as an indigenous person myself.

Henry Real Bird, from Montana, also attended and performed at the gathering, reciting poetry, and occasionally adding a traditional Native song into the mix.

Buckaroo Stories was also well received. Featuring Joe Blossom and Ted Howard. Old stories about the wild days left few seats empty during the Saturday show. And laughter was not scarce.

Students from the Owyhee Combined School displayed the films that they had developed in 2018 through the Deep West Videos program. Six students created films, with subjects varying from a hometown volleyball championship, to personal lineage through self discovery. This group has been displaying their films for many years.

Be on the lookout for next year's schedule.
